THE SUFFRAGISTS AND THE COM MITTEE ON THE DISTRICT.

PURTHER APPEALS FOR THE RIGHTS DE MANDED-RUMARKS BY SUSAN B. AN-THONY, SARA & SPENCER, BELVA & LOCKWOOD, PROBE CUZZENS AND OTHERS-WHY THE ORGANIC ACT SHOULD BE AMENDED.

He asked that the committee put the mashinery in motion to previde women the exercise of the right declared theirs by the highest judicalal tribunal of the District of Columbia. This territory is the ward of the nation, and Comgress has the power to doclare that this privilege can be exercised by both men and women. The men with legal minds, presiding over our courts, selected from without the District, have declared the laws secure it a right to women, and it is now the duty of the committee to see that this decision is considered and respected. It was said that the fourteenth amendment, regarding suffrage, did not execute itself as applicable to women. If it did not, then it bore the same fault regarding sum, and he did not doubt, under those circumstances, that there might be members of the committee who owe their election to men voting men, and he did not doubt, under those circum-mances, that there might be members of the com-mittee who owe their election to men voting under rights supposed to have been conferred nader this amendment. After reading the opinion of ex-Attorney General Bates on the power of roting he said that the fourteenth amendment ild not give to the colored man the right to vote, and that the fifteenth amendment was entirely segative in its application on the same point. If thus far his view was correct, the right of suf-frage had not yet been conferred upon the solored men, and still they are voting by the hundreds of thousands. Nine-tenths of the State constitu-tions restrict a colored man from voting, but they exercise that right from the fact that the four-teenth amendment is supposed to have this inhe-cent restriction of suffrage, and if this be true the right is open to the enjoyment of all. Therefore the women of the country some and ask for freedom and justice.

The Supreme Court had, however, decided therwise and referred them to Congress for re-ef. In the meantime the discussion has ren-red immense service, and to-day not 7½, but 600 tisens petition for the striking out of the word ale from the erganic act. This number is only fractional part of those desiring this action of ongress. Three of the judges of the Supreme ourt believe them to be right and are willing to tend a helping hand. Judge Carttor earmostly sires this reform, and stands willing to do all in a power, that does not conflict with his duties to their justice, to aid them. He sees no other cans so effectual for lifting women out of their resent condition of helpless dependence and concondition of helpless dependence and con-taggradation. Judge Fisher says that ay's experience in his office convinces him men need the right of suffrage to protect tagests and themselves. Should the committee see proper to report favorably upon their petition, the best men and the most shoughtful sarnest, useful women in this community will sarnest, useful women in this community will instain the decision and do their utmost to socure the best and highest results to the city from this sulargement of the franchise.

Mrs. Dr. Leckwood and Miss Francis Ellen Burr also argued for the granting of the franchise as a right, and the justice of which should not onger be delayed.

AN ADDRESS TO THE COLORED PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.
At the recent Civil Rights exavention held in this city it was decided to premier a National Equal Rights League, and delegates who asbested from the different State and Territorial talegations to form that council. One of the objects of this body was to proper an address to the colored people of the United States, setting forth have been perceptible as affecting our civil rights; they are fading.

Of course, the Republican party will be true to us and their pledges, which cover our full demand. We repose confidence in the party. May we not have copied by Democrats in Congress the example of those Democrats in New York and in South Carolina who gave their votes to secure us in our civil rights?

The ratification of the fifteenth amendment made colored men a political power. Let them wield it! Elections are succeeding elections; exactly a contraction of the fifteenth amendment made colored men a political power. Let them made colored men a political power. Let them wield it! Elections are successing elections: exercise your power for justice, for your rights and your country.

Be impressed with this very essential fact: we must be active, harmonious and united. Nothing would please our opponents more than to see apathy and division among us. They held us in slawery the length of years they did by keeping us divided; they will withhold from us our rights, though now free, if they can have us indifferent and shall create discord among us. It is very essential that you hold meetings and awaken to action. Arouse every man and woman in every community; let the ministry mgs their congregations to be active and united; bring every honorable appliance to bear in commanding respect for your cause; stand by it is every manner.

Money will be needed; this council must have fands; it will have to carry on an extensive correspondence, use the columns of newspapers, have a cierk or cierks, and agents; it will probably have to direct and aid in suits in defence of our civil rights; all of which tell you plat your council will need your co-speration. No effort, however desirable and worthy, has succeeded without material support, nor can ours. Carrespond with you regularly through some printing medium to the end of arousing a more general interest.

In behalf of the executive committee.

Now it was known in that immediate neighborhood their Burrill Willis had seriously felt the affects of the Burrill Willis had seriously felt the affects of the panic, was out of employment, and, in addition to these troubles, he had been insolvent from his birth. It's hard emough to pay one's debts when solvent, thought Willis to himself, and new to have that bow-legged, knock-kneed, cross-syed old nigger, Gales, howling around after that twenty cents I've owed him to over a year, when I'm in these straightened chestmantanees, is enough to mrifte a dispension divine. Fast through his mind flashed the-recollection of a somewhat indifferent life, and prominent among these pictures of memory vised the menifold provestions of Bill Gales. He remembered how often Gales had said that the girl he lived with was not his lawful wite, when all the white he had the proper certificate hanging on the walks of his humble home. THE OBJECTIONABLE ARTICLE.

"As the Chapel of the Holy Communion (Anglicum) the celebration of the Holy Eucharist, at 11 o'clock, was unsurally interesting and impressive. The Kyric, Credo, (Nicene.) Sursum Corda, (Lift. Up Your Hearts) Sanctus, Agune Del, Gloris in Encelsis, he, were rendered with charming effect. Mr. Joseph Partello deserves greateredit for the marked improvement in the choir, to which several valuable additions have been recently made. The prospect of the immediate erection of a commodicus chapel has given a fresh impetes to the work of the mission, and even now it may be fairly presumed that Pather Hobble hears more confession, has a larger average attendance at the daily celebrations, and sums up a larger collection of alms weekly than in many Roiman Catholic charches in this city.

"After the compline service at 1:20, Father Hobble continued his series of institution, in which the usual Protestant objections to the Real Presencewere set forth and answered. In conclusion he said: The time has passed when churchmen can believe in nothing at all. In these days of disloyalty and infidelity the Church calls upon its members to assert its true Catholic doctrine. In my next lecture I shall show that the Anglican Church, the prayer book is its office and the article teach a real, true, objective presence in the Holy Eucharist. As Christ, sitting by Nicodemus, and, "The Son of Man Is in benyen," to officence to design a content to the prayer of the Pather, has been on ten thousand Catholic alters to-day." Intelligence from Liberia indicates growth and prosperity. Agriculture is steadily on the increase. The Republices announces that "there will be a fair iscrease of the production of coffee over that of last year. Sugar-making is going on encouragingly. The steam-mills on the St. Paul' river, of Sharp, Dunbar & Decoursey, Anderson, Washington, Roe, and Cooper, beafdes the full number of hand and cattle power-mills, are doing a good business." President Roberts, in his last annual message, says: "The trade and the mercantile marine of the republic have increased, and are still increasing, in a ratio scarcedy credible; enterprising morchants are opening up new avenues of trade, and are extending their operation, both coastwine and interior, with encouraging prospects of continued succest."

Application has been made to the Liberian authorities for permission to establish a telagraph station at Cape Palmas, the cable coming from St. Vincent island (Uape Verde) on the one side, and from Benguela (South Africa) on the other. The said cable is to extend from St. Vincent to Libbon (Portugal) and thence to New York. This, with the cable also from Brazil to St. Vincent, will place Liberia, in direct telegraphic communication with the United States, Europe, South America and South Africa, constending and stready by an English company.

The semi-annual reports of June 20, 1872, of the two schools M. Arthington such that at Repwer-ville, supported by the society from the income of the Grainam legacy, show them to have had an average daily attendance of eighty-ris scholars, composed mostly of quite young persons and of both sexes, and the studies to have been spelling, reading, writing, grammar, arithmetic, and geography, in which encouraging progress was made. In Pobruary last the trustees of donations for education in Liberia received a donation of $25,000 from Hos. Albert Fearing, as a permanent fund, the income of which is to be expended in the support of the Liberia Callege. The money was immediately invested, safely and producibly. The same gentleman gave $5,000 in Melica a permanent fund for its library, besides a large amount of personal labor and valuable time.

Letters were read from Bishop William Bacon Stevens, of Philadelphia, and Hon. Revertly Johnson, of Baltimore, regretting their hability to be present.

LECTURE OF PROFESSOR ALLAN CURR. List night a most discouragingly slim andience was present at the Mossi Vernou church, corner Ninth street and Massachusetts avence, to greet the renowned Professor Alian Curr, who delivered his able lecture on "The Storming of the Bastille." This gentiemen is an eminent Scotchman, who enjoys the peculiar double honors of F. G. S. and F. R. S. L., which have been conferred upon him on account of his abilities as an author, poet and F. R. S. L., which have been conterred upon him on account of his abilities as an author, poet and orator.

As its title indicates, the lecture covered the history of the French Envolution and the downfall of the Bastile. The lecturer, in opening, paid a tribute to French character and nationality, and then described the construction of the Bastile, gave thrilling rectals of its butcheries and bloody history, and closed with an account of its storm and capture by the starving multitudes of Paris.

The style of the speaker is carnest and nervous, its storm and capture by the tarring manufacture of Paris.

The style of the speaker is carnest and nervous, rather than popular, while the structure of the lecture and the manner of its delivery are so prominently foreign that the secret of its lack of attraction to American andiences is to be found just here. The elecution of the Professor, as evinced in the recitation of several popular poens, among which was "King Henry of Navarre," was far from what is appreciated by our American nature. His wit is sparkling, and yet some of his finest points are lost in his foreign secenticities. The is the foreign to take well, and yet his scholastic and florary attainments are entitled to highest commendation and worthy of the most
